Ideas to stay connected & healthy

Fun and joy are necessary for our overall well-being and can even help stimulate our brains, especially if we’re learning something new. Below are some ideas for some of our old favorite games, mixed with suggestions for other activities.

1. Play board games: If you’re at home you’re with other family members, challenge them to a game that requires you to outwit your opponent like checkers, backgammon, mahjong, or chess. Show them who’s clever!

2. Card games: Play Solitaire if you’re alone, or if you have partners try Gin Rummy, Bridge, Crazy Eights, Spades, Canasta, Go Fish, or Old Maid.

3. Cook: Many people find cooking and baking therapeutic. Find some old recipes you love and create healthy versions or create new healthy recipes. Share them over the phone with your friends and neighbors.

4. Reminisce: Go through all those old family photos that you have laying around. Think about those wonderful occasions and look at how you dressed then as opposed to the kind of clothing you now wear.

5. Exercise: Keep moving! Get up and walk around your house or apartment every hour or so. Also remember that there are television and web versions of exercise classes for older adults. Check your local television listings to find the dates and times, and don’t forget to check YouTube for web-based fitness.

6. Brain Games: Pick-up a crossword puzzle or play some online word and number games. There are many that can be downloaded for free.

7. Sing: Even if you can’t carry a tune, singing is known to have health benefits. It helps to stimulate your circulation and boosts your immune system.

8. Listen to music: Again, research suggests that listening to music helps to elevate your mood, reduces stress, and increases happiness.

9. Spring Clean: Now is a great time to clean out those closets that you’ve been meaning to get to, and rid yourself of those items that you no longer want or can no longer wear.

10. Garden: If you have a yard, now is a good time to fertilize your plants and flowers. If not, you might consider doing some inside planting in pots and keeping them on your windowsill.

11. Create a Journal: You can start a gratitude journal by writing down all that you have in life that you are grateful for, or write down your feelings and how you are going to overcome the negative ones.

12. Laugh: Remember that old saying, “Laughter is the best medicine?” Well, it turns out that it’s true. Research shows that in times of uncertainty, laughter helps to calm us and ease our tensions. It also increases our oxygen circulation and stimulates our lungs, muscles, and heart, providing yet another boost to our immune system. So, while we’re reminiscing, cooking, and playing games, let’s just remember to laugh!
Memory Maker at Home

Knowing that there is a magnified correlation between social isolation and the cognitive/mental health decline of people living with memory loss, the Memory Maker Project has developed creative, virtual ways to engage people living with memory loss, their care partners, and the older population in general, through a program called “Memory Maker at Home.”

Initiatives within the program include weekly Virtual Art Talks in collaboration with local galleries and art museums, and the Memory Maker Radio Hour on 99.5 WBDY. A digital database has also been created on their website, offering fine art images with conversation prompts and printable short stories, written especially for people with dementia and their caregivers. Find out more at www.memorymakerproject.org.

Update on Economic Impact Payments for Social Security and SSI Beneficiaries

Beginning May 22nd, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) issued Economic Impact Payments (EIP) to approximately 1.4 million SSI recipients with representative payees and 10.4 million Social Security beneficiaries with representative payees.

The IRS issued the EIPs via direct deposit and Direct Express starting May 22nd, to the same direct deposit account or Direct Express card as the recipient’s monthly Social Security or SSI payment. Paper check EIPs will be mailed starting May 27th.

Visit www.ssa.gov/coronavirus/#reppayee to learn about EIPs and representative payees. You can find the eligibility requirements and other information about the EIPs at the IRS’ Economic Impact Payment Information Center.

Tips for Dementia Caregivers at Home

Caregivers of individuals living with Alzheimer's and all other dementia should follow guidelines from the Centers for Disease Control (CDC), and consider the following tips:

- For people living with dementia, increased confusion is often the first symptom of any illness. If a person living with dementia shows rapidly increased confusion, contact your health care provider for advice. Unless the person is having difficulty breathing or a very high fever, it is recommended that you call your health care provider instead of going directly to an emergency room. Your doctor may be able to treat the person without a visit to the hospital.
- People living with dementia may need extra and/or written reminders and support to remember important hygienic practices from one day to the next.
- Consider placing signs in the bathroom and elsewhere to remind people with dementia to wash their hands with soap for 20 seconds.
- Alcohol-based hand sanitizer with at least 60% alcohol can be a quick alternative to handwashing if the person with dementia cannot get to a sink or wash his/her hands easily.
- Ask your pharmacist or doctor about filling prescriptions for a greater number of days to reduce trips to the pharmacy.
- Think ahead and make alternative plans for care management if the primary caregiver should become sick.

Suggested Contribution

Due to the high cost of publishing our newsletter, the Family Services Department is asking for a suggested donation of $10 per year for a subscription to the Senior Scoop. No one will be denied the newsletter, however, due to an inability or unwillingness to contribute. All donations will go directly towards the creation and distribution of the Senior Scoop.

Updates: Congregate Dining & Countryside Community Center

We are looking forward to welcoming guests back to our Congregate Dining program during the month of June! Although our tentative target “re-opening” date is Monday, June 15th, this will be contingent upon the beginning of Phase 3 of Governor Cuomo’s plan. Please call 607-687-4120 to ensure that we are open for lunch prior to your arrival if you are hoping to enter the building to eat.

We will continue to offer “Grab & Go” lunch bags at the front door of the Countryside Community Center, Monday through Friday from 11:30 AM to 12:30 PM, in order to provide an alternative for those who might not yet feel comfortable eating in a congregate setting. This service will continue until further notice.

We are excited to begin welcoming the community back into our building and have been busy making changes to increase safety measures for our customers and staff alike. You will notice plexiglass barriers at our reception desk and on the serving line in the dining room. Social distancing markers will be used on the floors and staff will wear masks when interacting with customers in our buildings. Several chairs have been removed from our lobby and from all of the tables in the dining room. Detailed “re-opening” plans are available for the public to view in our lobby. Please call 607-687-4120 with any questions or concerns!
